COLLABORATION

We collaborated with Sparton employees and Volusia County Schools to create a school supply drive that would benefit students at McInnis Elementary School. Sparton employees adopted Pre-K to 5th grade students and purchased 10 sets or more of school supplies for each grade. The employees delivered well above expectations. We are thrilled to announce that this partnership was a success! Nothing can stop us when we all work together for the good of the community.

STORIES OF IMPACT

Upon contacting the emergency helpline, 'Nancy' a victim of domestic violence was quickly provided immediate emotional support and scheduled to meet with a Family Life Center advocate to discuss long term assistance. Because of the domestic violence and a reduction in her salary due to COVID, Nancy was struggling to make ends meet. Nancy and her young child were going to be evicted. Nancy and the advocate worked together for several weeks, completing applications for housing and identifying eligible programs and in a short time, the survivor successfully obtained housing for her family and was able to relocate to a safe and independent housing prior to being evicted.

After 20 years of marriage, Susan's husband, the primary head of household, became gravely ill and died. Shortly after his death she took custody of her three young granddaughters and adopted them. Susan struggled to pay the bills and was evicted. She found a safe, stable place to stay and received intensive, compassionate guidance at Family Renew Apartments. While there, Susan was given the chance to refocus her energy and shape her future. Susan chose to pursue a position as a home health aide. Family Renew helped with the costs of training and certifications. Susan budgeted and paid down debts and saved money for her move into a three-bedroom permanent home. In addition, with counseling, tutoring and more stability in their home life, the two older girls went from failing grades to straight A's. The youngest will start first grade in the fall. If you work the program and follow the directions of the staff, you will be set up to succeed!
